NATURA 2000

Natura 2000 is the main instrument of the European Union policy for the conservation of biodiversity. The Regione Sardegna allocated funds to ensure the long-term maintenance of natural habitats.

FOXI is not a Natura 2000 area of biodiversity interest, therefore no action can be taken through this project.

However, following the report from Legambiente, the municipality of Quartu SE has recently allocated 1,600,000 euros to the sanitation of the river mouth.
